

The anti-Kerry documentary that Sinclair Broadcasting is planning to air so close to the Presidential Election and under the guise of a news broadcast during prime time, clearly illustrates the aggressive imbalance that is allowed to take place in the media.

Free media is essential however falsely labeling and advertising the premise of the broadcast as "news" and foregoing previously scheduled programming walks the thin line between information and propaganda.

I'm sure the FCC will find it easy to ignore this problem; however it is best to review the matter promptly as it will serve as a precedent in further perversions of the media in the future.

Thanks
